Born in Swoyersville, Pennsylvania on December 23, 1942, he was the son of the late of Gino and Noemi (Iozzelli) Innocenti. His parents emigrated to the United States from Pistoia (Tuscany), Italy in order to provide a better life for their eventual family. He grew up with a large extended family and very close-knit group of neighborhood friends. He attended local parochial schools including Holy Trinity Elementary and West Side Central Catholic High School.

He received the A. B. degree in History (magna cum laude) from King's College, Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania, in 1964, after which he worked as a Graduate Assistant in the Department of History at Duquesne University, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, earning the M. A. there in 1966. After one year as an Instructor in History at Gannon College, Erie, Pennsylvania, he returned to graduate study at Bryn Mawr College, Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania, supported by a fellowship and assistantships during his stay.

Jerry was a recipient of a Fulbright-Hays Grant, and completed dissertation research in Italian Agrarian History at the University of Pisa, Italy, during the 1970-1971 academic year. He returned to the United States in 1971, and served as Graduate Assistant in the Department of Italian at Bryn Mawr College.

While continuing his research in Italian Agrarian History, he began his teaching career at Kutztown State College in September of 1972. He received the Ph.D. in Medieval and Modern European History at Bryn Mawr College in 1978, having successfully defended his dissertation, San Quirico: A Case Study of the Crisis of the Mezzadria in Rural Pistoia, 1900-1960, in 1977.

From 1972 until his retirement in 2003, he was a member of the Department of History of Kutztown State College/University, rising from the rank of Assistant Professor to that of Professor. During those 31 years, he devoted himself to teaching, scholarship and service to his Department, the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, and the University. In 2003, the Council of Trustees of Kutztown University granted him emeritus status.

Some of his fondest memories are of the time he spent
